Court Employs Appraisal Company

Four New Voting Precincts Made

Four new voting precincts were created by the Randall County Commissioners Court at their regular meeting Monday.

Three of the new boxes are in Amarillo, while the fourth is in Canyon.

Precinct 1, in Canyon, was split along Highway 87, and that portion to the east is now designated Precinct 13. Aubrey Crossland will be election judge, Commissioner Pat Baber announced.

Levi Cole will continue to be election judge for the cut-down Precinct 1.

In Amarillo, Precinct 9, formerly with two voting boxes, has been split into Nos. 9, 10, 11 and 12. Small portions of voting Precincts 5 and 6 were taken into 10, 11 and 12.

W. T. McGregor, county surveyor, gave these approximate boundries for the new South Amarillo precincts:

No. 9, Alice Landergin School, the area east of Washington and three miles south of the Randall County line.

No. 10, Lamar School, the area west of Washington and south of 36 south to 44th, and that area between an extension of Georgia and the Canyon Highway north of Arden Road.

No. 11, South Lawn School, the area bounded on the north by 44th, between Washington and Georgia and two miles south.

No. 12, Coronado School, that area north and west of Highway 87 to Bell Avenue.

Maps of the new voting precincts are being prepared by McGregor, and will be published in The Canyon News and the Amarillo newspapers.

The new divisions were made because of the large number of voters using the old boxes. In Amarillo, voting was slowed down to the extent that long lines formed during heavy balloting, Commissioner C. Y. Johnson said.

The single box in Canyon had grown so large it normally took five to seven hours to count the votes following an election, Baber said.

Johnson said election judges in Amarillo will be Jonathan Durrett, Precinct 9; Mrs. Joe J. Miller, No. 10; Bill N. Sewell, No. 11; and W. Perry Powell, No. 12.

What to do?

Committee To Study Cemetery

The Chamber of Commerce offered organizational aid to the Randall County Cemetery Association following Tuesday morning's coffee session, while Mrs. Lonnie Byars, association president, was appointing a committee to study various proposals for operating Dreamland Cemetery.

Early the morning, Mrs. Byars said two citizens had agreed to work on the committee, and the third who had been selected was out of town. Members names will be announced later.

The committee will study the proposals made by the Rest Lawn Memorial Park of Hereford, Inc., and Memory Gardens, Inc., of Amarillo, as well as other possibilities for a local non-profit corporation.

At a meeting of the association Friday night, Ray Parks of the Amarillo corporation, proposed that Dreamland cemetery be purchased from Randall County or that his company negotiate an operating contract with the county.

In beginning the meeting, Mrs. Byars said, "We wanted to have a discussion of what needs to be done to the cemetery."

Burney Slack was chairman for the meeting, attended by 16 citizens. "We've become a county that has outgrown itself," he said.

Mrs. Byars said that in past years, space owners and relatives of those buried in the cemetery had donated money for upkeep. "We have very few donations now."

"We used to make money on the lots. I can't understand how it happened, but we're broke now," she said. "Maybe people have lost interest."

Mrs. Ruth Hill, county treasurer, said the cemetery fund is normally quite low, except for the money budgeted by the county, but recently sales of lots have brought the fund to nearly $200. She said the sales have come since the announcement of the possible sale of the cemetery.

Mrs. T. V. Reeves cautioned that no hasty action should be taken in changing the operation of the cemetery. "I think we should be extremely slow in going into any situation that might work a hardship on any person at the time they are least in the frame of mind to protect themselves," she said.

A. C. Haley Jr. suggested the possibility of forming a non-profit corporation by members of the association. "If all the donations for the past 20 years had been put in a trust fund, it would be large enough to take care of the cemetery now," he said.

The group voted to appoint a study committee, which is to make a report in the next few weeks.

Mrs. Byars said she would announce the time of the next meeting early enough to allow everyone who is interested to attend.

During the coffee session, various possibilities for operating the cemetery were discussed, and problems of the present operation were presented.

The chamber agreed to provide any needed organizational help and to help with compiling records of the cemetery. Truett Hull, chamber president, emphasized that such help would be available until the association is strong enough to operate without outside aid.

Red Cross Calls For Disaster Funds

The Canyon Red Cross chapter is asking for donations for the relief of the flood areas in the eastern and New England states.

Official estimates of the amount of money that will be needed in the Eastern States Flood Disaster area run to $5 million, and all the United States is invited to donate.

No specific goals have been set for any area. In the disaster states, the Red Cross has 170 shelters in operation which are feeding 12,000 persons a day.

The Red Cross anticipates there will be 8,000 requests for relief from flood damage to homes and businesses. The goal of $5 million is hoped to be reached by Sept. 1.

Contributions may be made to T. A. Black or Levi Cole.

Eagles Block and Tackle

By the thin light of early morning, Canyon High football candidates practice basic blocks and tackles. This group—centers, guards and tackles—worked Monday morning on blocking at the line while backs and ends were busy in other parts of the practice field.

36 Candidates Begin Practice For 1955 Football Campaign

Thirty-six sophomores, juniors and seniors began football workouts early Monday morning, and will continue twice a day until school starts.

In addition, three more will begin working next Monday, Coach Guy Harrison said Tuesday.

The coach said those working out are showing good spirit. "They're hitting as hard as we'll let 'em," he said.

"We had plenty of chatter Monday as soon as they warmed up, but the soreness is beginning to show up. We're have a little trouble with tender feet, but that should clear up soon," Coach Harrison said.

He said the Floydada game scheduled Sept. 9 is a slight handicap because it comes so soon after workouts began, "but our opponent has to play on the same day, too."

Floydada's workouts began Monday, and their school starts on the same day as Canyon's, thus cutting the two-a-day workouts to the same number.

"If we had to play a school that started after ours, those extra workouts would make a bigger difference," Coach Harrison said.

The coach declined to comment on the season's prospects. "I don't suppose you can get any coach to stick his neck out too far," Coach Harrison laughed.

He said the Eagle team would be handicapped by a lack of depth, especially in the backfield.

The roster of players for this year includes Harlie Adams, Don Britain, Garland Ruthart, Roland O'Donald, Arthur Pruett, Gary Humphries, Bobby Phillips, T. B. Baca, Wayne King, Ronald Crow, Jimmy McBroom, John Robert Wheelock and Gerald Free.

Memory Gardens Cemetery Clear For Expressway Right of Way

Organist

MARY RUTH McCULLEY

Right of way for the expressway through Memory Gardens cemetery, north of Canyon, has been cleared, Ray Parks, of the cemetery, announced last Friday.

Parks said owners of spaces in the cemetery had signed instruments agreeing to receive similar spaces further west in the cemetery. Relatives of those buried in the cemetery have also agreed to the removal of bodies, he said.

The cemetery will be replatted in exactly the same form 243 feet west of its present location. The expressway will use 143 feet of the land, and the extra 100 feet will be reserved for possible expansion of the highway system, Parks said.

Early in July the owners of the cemetery agreed with the county commission to deed the right of way for a consideration of $30,000—$10,000 of which was to be considered as the price for the land involved and $20,000 to be used for relocating the cemetery and its improvements.

The $30,000 deal was subject to the company obtaining the permission of space owners.

Parks indicated yesterday he would present the deed to the county commission this week.

College Offers Course in Organ

With the installation of a new electronic organ in the Administration Building auditorium, West Texas State College will offer instruction in organ, beginning with the fall semester.

President James P. Cornette has announced the appointment of Mary Ruth McCulley, Amarillo, as instructor in organ, and organ instruction is now available for college credit to students of all WT departments.

Music students may now elect organ as a major or minor instrument.

Miss McCulley, of 2119 Jackson in Amarillo, is presently organist at the Polk Street Methodist Church and is dean of the Amarillo chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

She holds the B.A. degree from Southwestern Institute of Technology, the B.M. and M.M. degrees from the University of Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Duncan and Miss Johnie Courtney spent Sunday in Dalhart with Rev. and Mrs. Herschel Thurston. They attended the church services at the First Methodist Church where Rev. Thurston is pastor.

College Buys New Furniture

New furniture for the 127 girls who will occupy the old part of Cousins Hall, and new lounge furniture for three dormitories at West Texas State College has been bought for the fall semester.

The new furniture in Old Cousins will match that placed in the two-wing addition which was completed last spring. Each room will have new chairs, study table-dresser combination, twin beds and night stand.

Lounge equipment will be placed in the office at Cousins, in the corridors of the Cousins addition, and in the lounges of Conner and Stafford halls for men.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Byrd and son, Billy, spent last weekend at Red River and various spots of interest.

Clean Dreamland

Friday will be Cleanup Day at Dreamland Cemetery! Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the day, which actually begins at 5 p. m., has been set aside for all citizens to turn to and clean up the cemetery. The schedule calls for work to begin at 5 p. m. and last until dark. Everyone will be expected to bring garden tools to work with, and some should bring lawn mowers. The chamber will have a truck available to haul weeds and debris away from the cemetery. "If you can't come yourself, hire someone to come out and work," said chamber manager Roland Black. Those who own lots may spend the first hours working on their own property, before combining with others to clean up the rest of the cemetery.

Big State Auction of Amarillo Sees Purchase Completion This Year

Big State Auction Associates of Amarillo was employed by the county commission Monday to appraise and purchase right of way for the expressway and the widening of Highway 87 between Happy and Canyon.

The contract, which provides for payment of $60 a tract, will be signed in the next few days and the firm will begin working immediately. L. H. Nelson, auctioneer and appraiser for the company, estimated the work would be finished by the first of the year.

Representing the Big State Auction in the appraisal and purchase work will be Nelson, A. C. Youngblood, business manager, and L. V. Youngblood, office manager and auctioneer.

Under terms of the contract being prepared, the auction company will appraise all of the land needed for right of way, obtain approval of the commissioners court on the appraisals, then negotiate with the land owners.

In the event of condemnation suits, the firm will act as witnesses for the county.

The Youngbloods and Nelson promised the court a duplicate set of appraisal forms, for use by commissioners. County Judge Roy Joe Stevens said a set of files will be established in his office for each tract to be purchased, and commissioners will have access to it at all times.

Judge Stevens estimated the fee for Big State Auction would be about $9,000. There are approximately 150 tracts of land to be purchased between Happy and Amarillo, he said.

The exact number of tracts is not known at present because the highway department has not furnished right of way maps for the expressway between Hollywood and Amarillo.

The appraisers will begin work on the highway between Canyon and Happy and between the underpass and the hill north of Canyon. Late in July the highway department indicated work on those portions would begin first.

Channel easements for drainage will be negotiated without compensation, Nelson told the court.

The firm has handled clearance of right of way for Amarillo's part of the expressway, and is doing auctioneering for right of way clearance in Wichita Falls.

Earlier this month, the court had invited appraisal firms working in Dallas and Fort Worth to discuss the work here, but all firms contacted declined the offer. Judge Stevens said they told him, "We could buy right of way along the turnpike from now on, and still not get finished."

Before selecting the Amarillo firm, the court picked sample tracts along the highway and asked for appraisals. The appraisals submitted seemed to be in line with actual land values, Judge Stevens said.

The firm promised to complete the right of way purchasing in the shortest possible time. "We want to do this work for you," Nelson told the court, "We plan to work night and day and stick with you until the job is done right."

Nelson and A. C. Youngblood said they would work straight down the highway, without skipping around.

"There's no use skipping a man just because he's hard to deal with. If we run onto one that just won't budge, we might begin working on the next tract and continue working with the hard one, but we won't just skip him until later," Youngblood said.

"We don't anticipate any condemnation suits," Youngblood said, "and I hope we don't have any. You can deal with any man, if you try hard enough."

The first appraisals to be made by the firm will reflect actual land values, not what it might take to purchase the right of way. The duplicate copies of the appraisals will be the property of the commissioners court and will not become a matter of public record.

The commissioners told the Youngbloods and Nelson they wanted to purchase the right of way at the current market price, not at some price set on possible future values.

The commissioners agreed to pay the firm in full when the right of way for the Canyon-Happy highway is finished. Other payments will be on the basis of 75 per cent value for the work completed on a monthly basis.

When working out the payment plan, Nelson told the court any method would be suitable.

L. V. Youngblood said the firm would hire a full-time office employe for the office in Amarillo. "We want it so anyone can contact us when they need us," he said. "We'll have a girl there, and we'll check in with her at intervals all day long.

"When someone needs us, all they will have to do is call," he said.

Weeks Rain Near One Inch Mark

Almost three-quarters of an inch of rain fell in Canyon in two showers Monday and Tuesday nights.

Total for the two days was .69 of an inch.

In Monday's shower, which fell around 11 p. m., the gauge registered .29 of an inch of rain. Tuesday's shower gauged .40 of an inch.

County Agent John Brazzil said Monday's shower fell heaviest in the area northwest of Hollywood, with some spots receiving up to 1½ inches of moisture.

Tuesday afternoon's showers came to Canyon from the east, but the heaviest fall was in about the same area as Monday's. More than two inches fell in locations just south of Amarillo.

"If it had rained like that all over the county, it would be worth a million dollars," Brazzil commented.

Eagle Band Now Working for Fall

Canyon High School's Eagle Band began pre-season rehearsals Monday night, and three more are scheduled before the opening of school.

Herman Demus, band director, announced that there are several openings in the band, and freshmen who are interested in band work should contact him immediately.

The next rehearsal is Thursday night. Two others are scheduled Monday and Tuesday nights. The practices last from 7 to 8:15 p. m., Demus said.

"We have to start early because we get started in quite a rush at the beginning of school. It takes a little time to get the cobwebs out," Demus said.

Street Change Okayed by City

A request by Pan-Ama Homes, Inc., of Amarillo that 5th and 7th Streets between 7th and 9th Avenues be converted to 20-foot alleys was agreed to by the Canyon City Commission Tuesday.

The agreement is contingent on the written consent of all property owners in the blocks around the affected area and the home-building company paying for the moving of water lines laid in the streets.

The request was made to allow the development of a housing area along 8th Avenue between 4th and 8th Streets. Pan-Ama Homes plans low-cost housing in that area.

The FHA requires that 8th Avenue be paved and that the side streets be paved back to the alley line.

The city commission has agreed to participate in the paving of 8th Avenue, but has a policy of participating in that paving which is at least one block long and ties on to existing paving.

Paving back to the alley line on the side streets (4th, 5th, 6th and 7th) does not fit in with the policy, Mayor Hosea Foster said.

He said the housing company desires to close the 5th and 7th Streets and convert them to alleys in order to save some of the expense of paving in the area.

A 10-inch water main with fire plugs is laid in the parkway along 7th Street, the mayor said, while a 4-inch main is laid in 5th Street.

If the streets were converted to alleys, the mains would have to be moved from the side of the street to the center, he said.

Permission to close the streets would have to come from owners of property in blocks 1, 2, 3, 4, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 25, 26, 27 and 28 in the McGee and Hutson addition.

Views and Comments

For the past two weeks, since the owners of Rest Lawn Memorial Park of Hereford, Inc., proposed they purchase Dreamland Cemetery from Randall County, the citizens of Canyon have been confronted with the problem of deciding what to do about the cemetery.

For years, the cemetery has been owned by the county, and operated through an agreement with the Randall County Cemetery Association. The county has, for the past few years, paid for a caretaker at Dreamland Cemetery. In addition, some county funds have been used for improvements.

The majority of permanent improvements, however, have come from space owners of the cemetery and those who have relatives buried there.

• • •

The combination of the two resources has not been enough, however, to keep the cemetery in proper shape. The caretaker is handicapped by the lack of water and watering equipment and other maintenance machinery. The efforts of space owners to beautify their plots have been stymied, especially by the lack of water.

The Hereford cemetery operators have proposed that they gain title to the cemetery and operate it as a profit-making business. The owners of Memory Gardens, Inc., of Amarillo, have indicated they would be interested in a similar proposal.

Canyon citizens, for the most part, don't know exactly what should be done with the cemetery. Most, however, are opposing the idea of selling it to an outside corporation.

But, most everyone agrees that "something should be done."

• • •

After studying the problem and thinking in the best interests of the community, we submit this idea as the best "something that should be done."

The Randall County Cemetery Association should incorporate itself as a non-profit corporation under the laws of the state and acquire the cemetery from the county.

The association could then adopt rules and regulations concerning Dreamland Cemetery and establish special or perpetual care trust funds to insure that the cemetery would be well kept from now on.

Such a move would cost considerable money at the beginning.

Possibly, if approached by the association, the county would contribute the money set up for the caretaker's salary for the next year—some $3,900.

• • •

Lot owners and relatives of those buried in the cemetery could be solicited for donations on a "one time only" basis, and that money could be placed in a trust fund.

The prices on lots could be raised past the "break even" point, and the extra money placed in the trust fund.

Donations from philanthropical institutions could be accepted and placed in the trust fund.

Such trust funds for the perpetual or special care of a cemetery are strictly governed by state law. The money placed in such a fund must be invested by a trust officer or a board of trustees, and the principal may never be used for upkeep of the cemetery.

The interest from the invested trust fund is used for maintenance purposes.

• • •

The law requires that perpetual care cemeteries shall deposit in the perpetual care fund a minimum of 20 cents a square foot of ground area sold for grave space as perpetual care property after March 15, 1934, until a minimum of $100,000 is reached, then the minimum drops to 10 cents a square foot.

Perpetual care, under the law, means "to keep the sod in repair and all places where interments have been made in order and to care for trees and shrubs planted by the cemetery."

Special care cemeteries, as differentiated from perpetual care ceremonies, may receive donations from individuals and use the money for the "improvement or embellishment of such cemetery." A perpetual care cemetery may also establish a special care fund.

In special care funds, 75 per cent of the interest must be used for the improvement and maintenance of private spaces, and the remaining 25 per cent may be used for the improvement and maintenance of the cemetery itself.

• • •

The laws governing cemetery corporations state that the corporation may make, adopt and enforce rules and regulations for the use, control and protection of the cemetery. It can decide the size and type of monuments to be erected and can regulate the landscaping of the cemetery.

A common misconception is that perpetual care cemeteries are those in which no individual monuments are erected, where no curbing can be built around lots and where the space owners have few rights regarding beautification of plots.

This is not true, however. Private corporations, operating on a profit basis, have hit upon that type of cemetery as the least expensive type to maintain.

A cemetery operated by a non-profit group, such as the Randall County Cemetery Association might become, would have the right to allow any type of monument or improvement for individual space owners.

• • •

In fact, the law specifically states that all owners of lots purchased of any non-profit cemetery corporation become members of the corporation and are entitled to vote in the election of officers and upon any matters "to the same extent as stockholders in other corporations."

It further says, they shall "select the board of directors to be named in the charter, which must consist of cemetery lot owners alone."

In that manner, no one except those most vitally interested in the cemetery would be allowed any voice in its operation. No outsiders could interfere in the affairs of Dreamland Cemetery.

Non-profit cemetery corporations are exempt from many of the strict laws governing cemeteries, but are not exempt from compliance with the laws affecting the perpetual and special care funds. Thus, no one could gain control of the association and take its funds.

• • •

The law says that: "Non-profit cemetery corporations organized by cemetery lot owners shall have the power to divide the land of the cemetery into lots and subdivisions for cemetery purposes and to tax the property for the purpose of its general improvement and upkeep."

The procedure setup for associations desiring to incorporate as non-profit corporations provides: "When it is desired to create a non-profit corporation organized by cemetery lot owners to receive title to lands theretofore dedicated to cemetery purposes, notice of the time and place of meeting shall be published in a newspaper of the county, if there be one, for 30 days prior thereto; and written notices shall be posted at and upon such cemetery for 30 days prior to the time fixed for said meeting.

"When the lot owners uniting in the formation of said non-profit corporation shall assemble, the majority of those present and voting shall decide on the question of incorporation, and the conveyance of the land to such non-profit corporation. Such meeting shall select the board of directors to be named in the charter, which must consist of cemetery lot owners alone."

• • •

That is the procedure it would be necessary to follow to change the Randall County Cemetery Association to a non-profit corporation.

If the association were incorporated, it would most likely become necessary to employ an executive secretary and to open an office. The full-time secretary would be needed to keep records of the association, supervise the sale of spaces and oversee the maintenance of the cemetery.

We believe that an executive secretary, an office and a fulltime caretaker would cost no more than $600 to $800 a month. Such expenditure would seem rather high in the early days of the new corporation, but we believe it would be a healthy investment in the long run.

While in its infancy, the Randall County Cemetery Association, Inc., would have rough sledding. It would take the cooperation and efforts of the entire community to keep it going.

• • •

But, if the corporation had been formed 20 years ago, the perpetual care trust fund would now be large enough to take care of the cemetery without the need for any further donations from anyone.

If a private business corporation can establish a cemetery and operate it at a profit, it stands to reason a non-profit corporation can do the same thing in a manner less expensive to those who use the cemetery.

The committee appointed last week by the cemetery association to study the problem of "what to do" should investigate the possibilities of forming a non-profit corporation before submitting any report to the association.

5. No. Unlike Archie Moore, this challenger never got the sought-for title fight.

THE IMPOSSIBLE

An Oriental story tells of a man who asked to lend a rope to a neighbor. His reply was that he was in need of the rope just then.

"Shall you need it a long time?" asked the neighbor.

"I think I shall," replied the owner, "as I am going to tie up some sand with it."

"Tie up sand!" exclaimed the would-be borrower. "I don't see how you can do that."

"Oh, you can do almost anything with a rope when you don't want to lend it," was the reply.

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Whether a special session of the legislature is called on school integration apparently hinges on a Texas Supreme Court decision still to come.

Filed by the anti-integration Texas Citizens Council in a district court at Big Spring, the suit seeks to bar payment of state funds to bi-racial schools.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd says the court decision holds the key to whether Texas laws must be changed immediately or already integrated schools must back-track. Decision by the district court can be carried directly to the Supreme Court and possibly be settled by the time school starts.

Should the court hold payment to integrated schools can be made under existing laws, there apparently would be no urgent need to change them, at least in that regard.

Shepperd said he welcomed the Big Spring suit since it promises to clear up the difficult legal situation.

Gov. Allan Shivers says he will call a special session "if necessary." He apparently was awaiting three developments:

He asked his newly formed citizens' advisory council on school integration to investigate and report to him on several questions, including the need of a special session.

He asked Shepperd to prepare an official ruling on legal questions.

And the decision in the Big Spring court case may set up conditions to determine need of the session.

In July the Board of Education voted to continue regular payments to local districts, whether segregated or not. It left racial policy up to local officials.

Since then, some 30 districts have announced whole or partial desegregation plans.

A University of Texas student committee also has taken on the segregation problem with a poll of student opinion on acceptance of Negro students outside the classroom. Graduate courses have been open to Negroes since 1950. Regents have ordered full desegregation in September, 1956.

KKK Talk Challenged

Attorney General Shepperd's claim that efforts are underway in Texas to revive the Ku Klux Klan brought a challenge last week.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips called on Shepperd to name names, but Shepperd declined. Names will be given prosecutors and grand juries when sufficient evidence is gathered for convictions, Shepperd said.

Giles Pleads Guilty

One of the biggest news breaks of last week was Bascom Giles' plea of guilty in criminal district court at San Antonio to two charges in connection with a Bexar County block land deal.

Giles' guilty plea concerned charges of consenting to accept a $30,000 bribe. He pleaded not guilty to a third count, of accepting the bribe. The state waived this charge and Judge Buck Jones imposed a six-year prison sentence. It is to run concurrently with a three-year sentence given Giles earlier at Austin on a charge of theft of $6,800 from the veterans' land fund.

Giles has appealed the case, which affords at least 90 days' delay in final deposition of the sentence.

Awaiting trial in San Antonio were Arthur McKenzie and C. V. Wynn, San Antonio land operators, indicted for offering the $30,000 bribe to Giles.

Other suits now pending against the former land commissioner are a civil suit at San Antonio, seeking recovery of $35,000, and nine additional charges in Austin, on other transactions. He also faces trial in Zavala County on another land case.

Stevenson Reply Awaited

Adlai Stevenson is slated to speak in Austin on Sept. 28. At that time he may reply to Gov. Allan Shivers' repeated refusal to support him for president.

During the national governor's conference in Chicago, Shivers said he would again, as in 1952, refuse to support Stevenson if he were Democratic candidate for president.

Stevenson withheld comment "until I am in Texas." Shivers, he pointed out, was a "guest in Illinois."

Stevenson's Austin appearance was arranged by the University of Texas great issues committee. It is billed as "non-political." Subject of his talk will be "America, the Economic Colossus."

Too Much Money

Overpayment of drivers license fees has created a problem for the Department of Public Safety.

DPS staffers reminded the public that increased charges voted by the 1955 Legislature do not go into effect until Sept. 6. At that time charges will jump from $1 to $2 for an operator's license, $2 to $3 for commercial licenses, $3 to $4 for chauffeurs.

Meantime, the lower rates apply, and the department has quite a task returning excess money.

For the wedding Mrs. O'Neal wore a pink linen dress with white accessories and a white carnation.

Following the wedding was a reception held in the Rev. O'Neal's home. From a table laid with an ivory lace cloth over red, Mrs. Nathan Mearse of Snyder and Johnny Beth O'Neal, sister of the bridegroom, assisted with the serving.

Open Seasons on Migratory Fowl Announced by Game Warden Pond

Already ducks have begun to fly over the area on their way south, and the Game and Fish Commission has announced open seasons on game.

Woody Pond, game warden, said anyone over 65 and under 16 is allowed to hunt without a license in Texas, but they must obtain an exempt license in order to hunt big game. The license does not cost anything, he said.

All hunters of migratory fowl must have a federal tax stamp, however.

The open seasons are (opening and closing dates inclusive):

Ducks and Coots—Nov. 2 to Jan. 15; shooting hours from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. No open season on black-bellied tree ducks.

Geese—Nov. 17 to Jan. 15; shooting hours from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Rails and Gallinules—Sept. 1 to Oct. 30; shooting hours from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Mourning doves—North half of state (Plains area included) Sept. 1 to Oct. 15; noon to sunset; south half of state, Oct. 15 to Nov. 28, same hours.

White-winged doves—no open season.

Woodcock—Dec. 8 to Jan. 16, shooting hours from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Wilson snipe or jacksnipe—Jan. 1 to Jan. 15; shooting hours from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Bag and possession limits for the various fowl are:

Ducks—Daily bag of five and possession of 10.

Geese—Bag of five and possession of five.

Rails and Sora—Bag of 15 and possession of 15.

Coot—Bag of 10 and possession of 10.

Mourning or Turtle Doves—Bag of 10 and possession of 10.

Woodcock—Bag of four and possession of eight.

Under Texas law, a person is required to place his game birds on storage within three days after the close of the season for the species that is being stored. No limit is provided for retaining game.

WHO SHOT HIM

Donnie, age five, is a TV fan. He knows all the sheriffs and cow rustlers and gun-totin' rowdies. One morning his mother took him on her lap and said: "Donnie, I have sad news for you — I hope you will take it like a man — grandfather is dead.'' Donnie stared thoughtfully for a moment, then bristled and said: "Who shot him?"

NO SALE

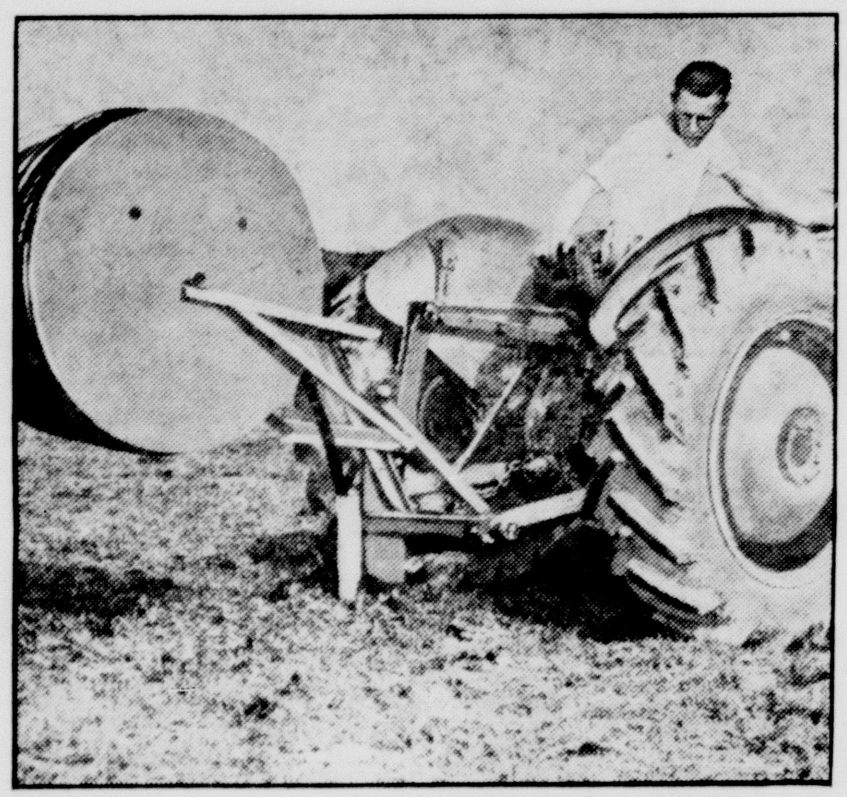
"I see your husband has a new stenographer," remarked Mrs. Busybody to the lady on whom she was calling.

"Yes?"

"Yes, and she's very pretty."

"I know, she's our daughter."

They are saying now that a Texas pedestrian is a guy who walks to his garage for his Cadillac.



PIPE THIS—Farmer prepares to lay plastic pipe with this automatic device on a plot of land near Franklin, Pa., where the labor-saving mechanism is manufactured. Disposable reels holding up to 600 feet of piping are attached to the machine, which is constructed for a three-point hitch, but which is adaptable to any farm tractor, according to the manufacturer. Operating at tractor speed, it is designed to uncover a trench, lay pipe 14 to 20 inches deep and back-fill after itself, at the rate of 100 feet per minute.

Susie — The horrid old mice got into the pantry and ate up a beautiful custard pie I had baked.

George — Come, now, don't worry so much about a few mice.

THE REASON

Mr. V. — Our George will be in the hospital for a long time.

Mrs. V. — Why? Have you seen the doctor?

MRS. CARL DURWARD JENNINGS

Montandon-Jennings Marriage Vows Exchanged in Tulia Church Recently

Mary Ellen Montandon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Montandon of Tulia, became the bride of Carl Durward Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Jennings of Canyon, in a double ring ceremony performed recently at the Central Church of Christ in Tulia. Paul Epps, minister, officiated.

A group from the church sang the traditional wedding marches and provided vocal background music for Joann Stanaland as she sang "O Promise Me" and "Because."

The altar was centered with a large pink net fan with a sunburst of white gladioli. On each side were pink candelabra bearing white tapers. Family pews were marked with white net fans with clusters of fern and ribbon.

The maid of honor, Barbara Flynt, wore a waltz length dress of pink net and matching lace over taffeta with a fitted lace bodice and ruffled net skirt front and lace back.

She carried a white net fan with an arrangement of pink carnations and satin streamers. Her headdress was of pink carnations and she wore matching pink lace mitts and shoes.

Rena Souter and Joann Stanaland were bridesmaids. Their dresses and headdresses were identical to those of the maid of honor. They carried pink net fans with arrangements of white carnations. Their mitts and shoes were of matching pink.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a lovely creation of all-over allicon lace and net tulle. The quaint and demure bodice was of imported lace.

The high-collar was Victorian and had a lace bow for the trim and a miniature button closing. The sleeves were elbow length and tapering.

The full and billowy skirt was of illusion net, a graceful sweep to the floor. The bride's veil was of illusion net, the headpiece, a lovely tiara crown of seed pearls.

Atop a white pearl studded Bible, belonging to Mrs. Argel Stark, she carried a little orchid with three satin streamers. For something old, she wore her grandmother's gold wedding band.

Neal Jennings of Silverton was his brother's best man. Larry Stroup of Canyon and Brent Joy of Tulia were ushers.

The mother of the bride wore a navy sheer tucked dress with a white pearl and rhinestone trimmed neckline. She wore a corsage of white carnations. Her accessories were navy and white.

The groom's mother wore a light blue linen sheath dress with lace duster. Her corsage was of white carnations and her accessories were navy.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ferguson. The table was covered with a white lace cloth over pink and was centered with a fan arrangement of pink roses. Monette Andrus served the wedding cake and Linda Jennings ladled punch. Mrs. Benton Noble registered the guests.

For the wedding trip, the couple visited in Colorado and New Mexico. For traveling, the bride wore a black and white cotton dress with a matching duster and white and black accessories. Her corsage was an orchid from her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Tulia High school, class of 1955. The groom was graduated from Canyon High school and has served in the U. S. Navy. He attended West Texas State College and Abilene Christian where he was a member of the Aggie club. He is now associated with his father in business.

The couple is at home at 1605 7th St., Canyon.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

BY LOUISE ALLEN

When you and I were young, Maggie, we heard a lot about the example we were setting. Our classmates, friends, the neighbors' children and even chance acquaintances — to hear our parents tell it — were lurking behind doors and lavendar bushes to see what we did so they could imitate us. This made for a very unnatural attitude.

Girls of our day were likely to be one person in the relaxed privacy of the home and quite another at church, at school or at parties. It also added to the already abundant self-consciousness, and maybe a little to the ego, of teen-age daughters. For naturally a girl who already suspected she was the center of attention was twice as bad about 'striking poses' if convinced by her elders that all the world's a stage and she the principal actor.

We sometimes think, however, that mothers have gone to the opposite extreme with today's "Be yourself" philosophy.

Not long ago we heard some office girls talking about a local doctor's wife. One of them had seen her at the beauty parlor several times — admired her hair, her beauty and her cultured voice. But, she ovserved, "She must be kind of stupid; her little girl is always telling her she already knows the things she asks about."

Maybe she is stupid; or maybe she needs to inform her teen-age daughter that there's such a thing as setting a bad example — even when there's no one present she particularly wants to impress.

Influence is a subtle thing — and there's nothing so embarrassing as to have someone show up years later, who says, "Do you remember the day you said thus-and-so? I've never forgotten it." And you wonder if old-fashioned parents who warned their young ones about setting a good or bad example could have been right.

Hall County Exes To Hold Reunion

All Hall County residents and ex-Hall County residents are cordially invited and urged to be present. Main events of the day will be music, softball game, swimming, and grand visitation.

EARTH-SATELLITE

Concensus among United States scientists in touch with the earth-satellite program recently announced by President Eisenhower is that Russia may well be in a comparative stage of development of such a device.

The earth satellite would, according to preliminary estimates, travel in its orbit at about 18,000 miles an hour and circle the earth once every 90 minutes.

The tiny, man-made "moon" would eventually be slowed by the very thin atmosphere in which it would travel at its altitude of some 200-plus miles. It would spiral toward earth, but would be burned up, much like a meteor, from friction with the dense, lower-level atmosphere before it could land.

While a sphere about the size of a basketball is mentioned as the shape which the man-made satellite will take, a "flying baseball bat," a cylinder about four feet long, is also under consideration.

Development of the earth satellite, challenging as it is to man's imagination, is only a logical extension of scientists' present efforts to gather near-space information with instruments sent aloft in rockets and balloons.

Palo Duro-Rusk H.D. Club Has Picnic

The Palo Duro-Rusk Home Demonstration Club held its annual picnic Aug. 10 at 5:30 at the Ed Reynolds picnic ground. Mrs. Dick Lowrey, Mrs. Earl Reynolds and Mrs. Clem Dugan, recreation committee, served as hostesses.

The next club meeting will be Sept. 12.

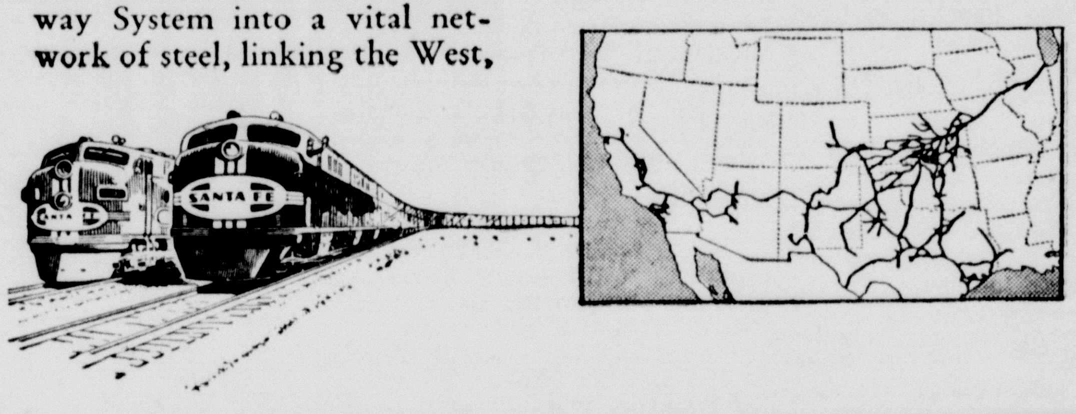
BREEDING

The ladies met on a train. "I'm from Boston," haughtily remarked one. "There, breeding is everything."

"Well, I'm from St. Louis," the other replied. "We like it there, too, but it's not everything."

A lot of tight people are good spenders only when they are tight.

Ever wonder what "Santa Fe" means?
Santa Fe
Back in 1901, about 40 years after the Santa Fe Railway was founded, the ancient Indian Cross-within-a-Circle design was placed in a square and the assembly was adopted as the official trademark of the young railroad.
The words "Santa Fe" means Holy Faith. Today, that faith and vision in America's future have built the Santa Fe Railway System into a vital network of steel, linking the West, Southwest and East with fast, efficient transportation services. These rails serve your town; help it grow and prosper.
And, no matter what your shipping or travel problems may be, Santa Fe will solve them. Your local Santa Fe agent is right here in your town to help you.
You can depend on him, as you can depend on the vast system he represents.



Paper in Manila, the Philippines, suggests that space stations may someday be big enough to accommodate all singers of the wail-and-weep-school. We're waiting for the day when the scientists will be able to ship 'em off on one-way rockets.

NO TIME TO GROW

Mrs. Noowed — Aren't these eggs rather small today?

Grocer — Yes'm, but the farmer who sells me my eggs had to start to town early this morning and took them out of the nest too soon.

DISTANCE LENDS TRANQUILITY

"You saved my life," sputtered the middle-aged gentleman. "Is there any way I can reward you?"

"Yes," replied the Coast Guardsman promptly. "Marry my mother-in-law and move to Buenos Aires."

Around the Town . .

By Mrs. Arthur C. Haley, Jr.,

With the beginning of school, parents begin to take more interest in the extra-curricular activities of their children. One of the least publicized of these groups is the Girl Scout organization. Yet it is a potent factor in our community in developing good citizens. Girl Scout troops work together as small democratic groups, electing their own officers, delegating authority, and accepting responsibility for carrying through any plans they decide to undertake. Girl Scouting aims to show a girl how to use in a practical way what she has already learned, to encourage her to develop new abilities and appreciation and most of all, to help her develop a healthy attitude toward life and a set of true values.

These girls send one dollar a year to headquarters in New York and they receive in turn the right to wear the Girl Scout uniform and are given a membership card. The adult leaders and troop committee members also send in one dollar a year. All contributions are kept in Canyon for Girl Scout work. In the past, the Sue Hite Club has given part of the proceeds of their annual game night, and the V.F.W. Auxiliary has given a contribution. A few individuals have contributed to the organization's funds. Through their efforts much work has been done on the Girl Scout building but much more needs to be done. For such work, there will have to be individual contributions.

One great fact of national importance has been called to our attention—we cannot and must not neglect the right kind of adult guidance and leadership for youth, the kind of guidance that helps develop democratic attitudes, acceptable social behavior, the practime of useful skills and a zest for life. There is a need for leadership in the Girl Scout organization. It is work, but it is a joyous work, and it is immensely appreciated. A few women cannot do a good job where a dozen women are needed. We hope you will volunteer your services in time and money to this wonderful organization. Anyone wishing to contribute to the Girl Scout fund may call Mrs. Marion Higdon, and anyone wishing to help with a troop may contact Mrs. Robert P. Jarrett, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sparkman are building a new home at 2512 9th Ave. The floor plan includes three bedrooms, two baths, living room, dining room, kitchen and attached garage. It is to be finished in salmon pink brick veneer with copper colored trim and a grey roof.

Mrs. Sparkman drew the floor plan herself, and both Mr. and Mrs. Sparkman have been doing much of the work themselves. Mrs. Sparkman is especially proud of the built-in stove units at counter top level. The Sparkmans have two children, Lowann, eight years old, and Gaylen, four years old. Mr. Sparkman is the Water Superintendent for the City of Canyon.

Mrs. Kenneth Dyson's class of fifth graders of the First Christian Church of Odessa were studying what makes a nation great. The class decided to write the President of the United States telling him what they felt made a nation great. They also promised to pray for the government officials. No one was more surprised than Mrs. Dyson when the President answered by phone. The members of the class could scarcely contain themselves with excitement.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron McDonald received a letter from Dick in London, England, that the Canyon group visited with Dick, his lovely wife, Joan, and three weeks old daughter, Melvina. He reported that everyone had a gay time discussing the home town. His wife was impressed with the group and was so happy to have a chance to become acquainted with her new "neighbors." The McDonalds are expected home sometime in September.

Eddie Hill, son of Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Hill, is an interne in a government hospital in the Virgin Islands. He writes, "Sunday before last, I went to a Methodist church here. It is a very quaint open-air structure, quite old but very pretty. They used a book called the Methodist Hymnal, but there the resemblance stopped—there was no music printed and none of the tunes were familiar. Most of the songs were chanted, many words on one note. The pastor is white. The natives are very religious. There are many different faiths here—Anglican, Methodist, Moravion, Catholic, Lutheran, etc. That afternoon we journeyed to Water Island. There is a beautiful resort hotel there. This is the off season so the manager devoted the day to showing us a good time. We began by having cold papayas (delicious) . . . We went in a jeep over the most abominable roads you can imagine down to the beach where they had all kinds of equipment, boats, paddle boards and snorkles, which are glass masks that fit over your face and have a periscope gadget to breathe through. . . . We saw literally thousands of fish of all sizes, shapes, colors, also coral, sea fans, and other sea plants. The most impressive sight was when I swam into a school of neon tetra fish, which are about an inch long and have an iridescent blue streak along their side . . . At dinner that night, we were entertained by Steve, one of the natives, who played a wonderful banjo and sang native calypso songs."

Mrs. Clark Jarnagin has a quickie meat recipe that comes in handy when guests arrive unexpectedly.

For ten to twelve slices of boiled ham use this filling:

½ lb. cheddar cheese, grated
1 medium onion, chopped
1 garlic button, chopped
4 tablespoons catsup
A-1 sauce and Worchester Sauce to taste.

Spread this filling on the ham slice, fold in thirds, fasten with a toothpick, and slip under the broiler for a few minutes.

A resident of this city for the past year moved away last week. She hated to leave because she said Canyon was one of the friendliest towns she had ever been in. She stated that this was the best school system her boy had been in.

Many others will be moving here for the school term and the residents of Canyon will make them feel at home, too.

Pamela Richards, Ellis Gill, Ritchie Brotherton, Larry Holman and Bill Philips spent last week at the Methodist Camp as members of the Junior camp. All reported they had a marvelous time, hiking, swimming and studying.

Have you heard of the absent-minded professor from Canyon who drove 150 miles to make a speech, got there, registered at the hotel, ate a leisurely dinner, bought a paper and went to bed? The next morning it dawned on him that he had forgotten to go make that speech.

The United Church Women will meet Aug. 30 at 3:30 at the Little House of Fellowship. The Episcopal ladies will be the hostesses. Guest speaker will be Mrs. James Farwell of Amarillo, state chairman of World Community Day in the state organization, who will speak on the work of the United Church women on the local level. Circle Aug. 30 for this important meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hill, with Joyce and her guest, Rosa, left Sunday morning for Grand Canyon where they will join their son, Eugene, who has been a forest ranger there this summer. Eugene will teach in the Dumas Schools this fall.

"And it is my prayer that your love may abound more and more, with knowledge and all discernment, so that you may approve what is excellent, and may be pure and blameless for the day of Christ, filled with the fruits of righteousness which come through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God." — Phillipians 1:9-11.

Luscious Blueberries Star in Desserts Other Than Pie

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

THOSE luscious, giant, cultivated blueberries, most of them from Michigan, can put color and flavor into your salads and desserts.

Blueberry Ice Cream Sauce (4-6 servings)

Simmer 1 pint (2½ cups) cultivated blueberries in ¼ cup water for about 5 minutes. Add 1¼ cups small, dry bread cubes, without crusts; ⅓ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind, and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Place on lowest heat for 20 to 30 minutes. Serve with vanilla ice cream, plain cream, or sweetened, whipped cream.

Blueberry Ambrosia (6 servings)

One-third cup boiling water, 4 sprigs mint, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 cups fresh cultivated blueberries, 1 to 1½ cups shredded coconut.

Pour boiling water over mint and steep for 5 minutes. Strain. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Cool. Alternate layers of blueberries and coconut in serving dish. Pour mint sauce over fruit. Chill. (Note: For variation use fresh fruits, such as apricots, pitted Bing cherries, grapefruit, honeydew melon and cantaloupe).

Blueberry Plantation Salad

Crisp lettuce, cottage cheese, large, cultivated blueberries; fresh peach half, salad dressing.

Arrange crisp lettuce leaves on individual salad plates. Place scoop of cottage cheese on each leaf and heap blueberries on top. In the center of the plate put a fresh peach half, cut-side up, and fill with berries. Serve with mayonnaise or any favorite fruit salad dressing.

Blueberry sauce for ice cream is a delicious, seldom-used topping with which to surprise your family one of these days.

Methodist Church School Magazine Cites Miss Mary Moss Richardson

Miss Mary Moss Richardson, retired teacher, was honored with her picture appearing on the front of the Church School Magazine, a monthly publication of the Methodist Church.

Rev. Hubert Thomson, district superintendent in Abilene and former pastor of the First Methodist Church of Canyon wrote the following editorial accompanying the picture:

"'I belong to the church.' This emphatic statement made to a student twenty-five years ago by Miss Mary Moss Richardson, beloved teacher of Canyon, Texas, characterizes the life of a devout Christian who has given herself without reservation to her church.

Now retired, Miss Richardson was a gifted teacher—by nature, training, and experience. By the time she was sixteen, she had a Sunday-school class and has taught almost continuously since. She taught a class of college students at eighty. Having read the Bible through sixty-three times, she has always had a profound influence on her pupils, who have ranged from youth to older women.

Early in life, Miss Richardson became a public school teacher. Desiring to train teachers, she came to West Texas State Teachers College, where, until retirement in 1944, she was an efficient English instructor. School teachers, ministers, and missionaries have been among her students; they learned to value her friendship, counsel, and teaching.

Miss Richardson is a "good steward of Jesus Christ." A consistent tither, she has contributed generously to extend Christ's kingdom. Ecumenical in spirit and practice, she pushes her generosity beyond denominational lines while supporting all Methodist causes.

She helped build several churches in Canyon and for years furnished a music scholarship in Mexico. She gave 754 books to Prairie View College in memory of a Negro girl, and has sent much clothing abroad. She has a $1,200 annuity with our Board of Missions, the whole sum to go to missions at her death. For sixteen years she has given part and raised part of the funds to support a former student as a missionary in Peru. She helped bring nine displaced persons to Canyon and has adopted two Korean orphans.

In 1953, Miss Richardson deeded her home, "Rest Cottage," to the Northwest Texas Conference as a residence for retired ministers. Located near the church, this home has been a haven for hundreds of lonely students and a co-operative home for fifty college girls.

Miss Richardson has made two trips to Europe. She keeps alert by reading a book a week. She holds two college degrees, is a life member of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the National Education Association, and likes nothing better than helping people over hard places. Devout Christian, world citizen, loyal supporter of Methodism, Mary Moss Richardson really "belongs to the church.'"

Rhea June Ford, R. A. Burgess Marry in Joseph A. Hill Chapel

Rhea June Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ford, became the bride of Richard Allen Burgess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burgess, in a double-ring ceremony at the Joseph A. Hill Chapel Sunday, Aug. 14.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the service before a candle lighted altar decorated with baskets of white gladiolas and banked with greenery.

Mrs. Dick Dawdy, organist, played the traditional nuptial selections. She accompanied Debra McDonald who sang "Through the Years," "No Other Love" and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction. Traditional processional and recessional marches were used.

Mrs. W. A. Hawkins Jr., sister of the bride, registered the guests as they entered the chapel.

Pat Ford, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Patricia Burgess, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore identically styled dresses of waltz length styled with a fitted bodice and a full skirt. Miss Ford wore a powder blue creation while Miss Burgess wore a pale yellow gown. Their hats were halo styled sprinkled with seed pearls. They carried bouquets of daisies with matching ribbons.

Gaylene Hawkins, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress was identical to the maid of honor with matching halo hat. W. A. Hawkins III, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Rookie Rogers of Borger was best man. Donnie Ford, brother of the bride, was the groomsman. Ushers were Jamie Airhart and A. C. Wimberly.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a nylon net and lace permanent pleated ballerina length white gown. Her lace jacket featured tapered sleeves. Her veil of illusion fell from a halo hat studded with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

The bride's mother wore a plum colored faille dress with pink accessories, and she wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Burgess, the bridegroom's mother, wore a beige linen two piece dress with white accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal party was honored at a reception in the parlor of the Baptist Student Center. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with yellow chrysanthemums and blue daisies flanked with candles.

Mrs. Rookie Rogers of Borger registered the guests. Nancy Adcock presided at the punch bowl and Martha Quillen served the wedding cake.

Ruth Ann Bolton and Ann Moore played appropriate music during the reception.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride chose a cotton print sheath dress with a black linen duster. Her accessories were black and white. She wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Burgess was graduated from Canyon High School in 1955 and is employed at Mead's Bakery in Amarillo.

The bridegroom is a 1955 graduate of Canyon High School. He will attend West Texas State College in the fall. The couple will make their home in Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burgess, parents of the bridegroom, entertained with a rehearsal dinner Saturday night at the Cowboy Cafe.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

While some observers seem to think the big issue in the political year of 1956 will be who does, or doesn't run, on relations with the Kremlin, or some other factor, evidence increases none of these will be the big issue.

* * *

The big issue, and perhaps the only issue, will be the condition of free, independent enterprise in this nation.

* * *

C. W. Harder

Rep. H. D. Cooley, N. C., speaking before the Research and Engineering Center of Ford Motors made a very significant statement.

* * *

"The motivating force of free enterprise is the desire of men to have their own farms and businesses, and I call upon the farm implement industry to adapt more tools, more implements and machines to accommodate the convenience and productivity of the family size farm. If you do this; if those who are in a position to do so will help stop this talk about little fellows being inefficient—a burden to society—we can prove that the family unit is the unbeatable American unit, putting to shame those who want to send the little fellow into the streets looking for jobs."

* * *

It is significant, too, that as Rep. Cooley made this talk, back in Washington high officials continued to discuss methods to take off the land another million or so farm families on the grounds they are operating units too small to be efficient. Yet during the greatest population growth of the past 30 years, the number of farms in the nation has already dropped by 1,300,000.

* * *

The late and unlamented Joe Stalin didn't believe in small farms, either. He wanted efficiency, too. He liquidated them. Yet Russians are now close to starvation point. Joe, if he kept his lines open to Washington, must be chuckling even now as he wipes perspiration off his face.

* * *

In other fields, Congress is showing increasing concern. After studying the rash of banking mergers, the House Banking Committee issued a report of which a part follows.

* * *

"The time for action is now. We dare not wait any longer, for already we are following the example of England whose many banks became the Big Five."

* * *

Immediately on the heels of this report, Rep. E. Celler of N. Y. protested recent billion dollar bank merger in Philadelphia.

* * *

Philadelphia, with a population of more than 2 million now has 68% of its bank assets in just four banks.

* * *

To many there is coming a feeling of wonder over the entire course of American public affairs during the past decade.

* * *

Some wonder if all the ballyhoo and fuss over such matters as need of 3.2% of the natives of Timbuctoo for bifocal spectacles to keep that nation from communism, is not merely one big smoke screen.

* * *

And behind that smoke screen unchecked raids against independent business system are launched.

* * *

After all, a Congress kept busy all session debating how much money to give to encourage development of a pogo stick industry in Patagonia can give little time or attention to lack of antitrust law enforcement, or to "beefing up" existing laws. In all kinds of brawls from barroom types to high levels, it is considered good strategy to first confuse.

Winter Legume Planting Near

COLLEGE STATION—Farmers should be making plans now for the seed and fertilizers which will be needed for winter legume plantings. In most areas of the state, says Ben R. Spears, extension agronomist, the best time for fall planting is from mid-September to early November.

For the High Plains and El Paso and Pecos Valleys, the principal adapted legume is alfalfa under irrigation. The biennal sweetclovers, hairy vetch and Austrian winter peas can also be grown if irrigation is available.

Spears suggests that the local county agent be contacted for details on legume varieties as well as fertilizing, inoculating and seeding operations.

GOOD DEFINITION

If someone would ask you why a ship is always referred to as "she or her" you might give this explanation: "It costs a lot to keep her in paint and powder, she'll drift off if you don't keep her tied down, she makes her best showing in a high wind and it takes a man to handle her."

DUMB WIFE

Wife: "Tony, this isn't our baby. You've taken the wrong carriage!"

Husband: "Shut up you dope! This one's got rubber tires."

Jail the Chicks, They Do Better

COLLEGE STATION—Raising the pullet flock in confinement has several distinct advantages over the more common practice of growing them on range.

According to Ben Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman, the greatest benefit from raising pullets under a roof should come during the summer months when they need protection from the sun and severe local storms . . . wind, rain and sometimes hail which often cause trouble in pullet flocks on range.

Other advantages cited by Wormeli include the great saving of space. About three acres of land are needed to range raise 1,000 pullets while the same number can be handled in a 20 by 100 shelter house.

Feed losses on the range due to wind, rain and that eaten by other animals and birds is often heavy. Poultrymen who raise their pullets in confinement say this loss is practically eliminated.

Reduced losses from diseases and predatory animals can be expected, says the specialist when the growing birds are confined.

But the top saving comes in labor. The feed room is part of the building and makes the feeding job much easier than range feeding where feed troughs are scattered over a wide area. Even greater savings of time and labor can be made by using mechanical feeders.

Too, mechanical waterers can be used in the house to provide a continuous supply of clean water which is a must for economical production of all poultry.

In summary, Wormeli points out that about the only disadvantage to the confinement method are the higher initial cost for housing as compared with costs for range shelters and the increased trouble from cannibalism.

This trouble can be largely controlled, he adds, by debeaking. Whether or not the advantages offset the additional housing cost required for confinement rearing should be considered by the poultryman when he makes his decision on the method to be followed in growing his pullet flock.

YES—BUT—

She (gushingly) — Will you love me when I'm old?

He — Love you? I shall idolize you. I shall worship the ground under your little feet. I shall—um—er—You are not goin to look like your mother, are you?

COMPETITION

"I suppose the little wife will win all the arguments in your house?"

"No, she'll only win half of them."

"Oh, you expect to win the other half?"

"No, but my mother-in-law will."

HEAP SILLY

Two Indians watched the building of a lighthouse. When it was finally completed they sat and watched it every night. A thick fog came rolling in one night and the siren blew continually.

"Ugh," grunted one Indian to the other, "light shine—bell ring—horn blow—but fog come in just the same."

Registered Calf to be Prize for Contest during County Dairy Tour

Dairymen from Randall, Swisher, Deaf Smith and Castro Counties will be joined by Canyon businessmen for a Dairy Tour of the county Sept. 6. They will compete for a registered heifer calf in cattle judging and production guessing contests.

The tour, sponsored by the Randall County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, will be of outstanding herds in the county. The association is one of 26 operating in the state. Last year, the herd owned by Neil Downing was the high herd in the state in milk production.

During the tour, those attending will visit three dairies in the county.

First on the day's agenda will be the Richmond Hales herd where the tourists will see the modern milking parlor and pipeline system. The contest there will be judging of cattle and a classification contest.

R. E. (Dick) Burleson, of the agriculture extension service, will assist in the contests.

The second farm to be visited will be Downing place. To be shown there are the herd, concrete-lined pit silos, ensilage harvest and the milking parlor.

The judging contest will be continued and the production guessing contest will begin there.

Those on the tour will have lunch with the Canyon Rotary Club.

During the luncheon, trophies for the dairymen with the highest producing herd and the highest producing cow will be presented.

After lunch, they will visit the Louis Hinders farm to see his herd of registered cattle. The production guessing contest will continue.

After the contests are completed, the scores of each individual participating will be added. The one with the highest score will be given the calf, donated by Hinders.

Eason TV Script Wins Third Place

A television script by Henry Eason, former West Texas State College student from Wildorado, was recently awarded third place in a national contest sponsored annually by the speech department at the University of Maryland.

Eason's script, titled "The Wolverine," was written in a class, "Creative Writing for Radio and Television," taught by Dr. Jack Walker at WT.

The WT speech department has offered for the past two years a series of courses in radio and television announcing, directing, production, drama, and writing.

SOLD

The tailor was selling his best friend a new suit. He was raving about the garment.

"I'm telling you, Harry," he said, "that even your best friend won't recognize you in that suit. Just take a walk outside for a minute and get the feel of the garment."

Harry went out and returned a moment later. The proprietor rushed up to him with a happy smile.

"Good morning, stranger," he beamed, "What can I do for you?"

OUCH!

Little boy (at the opera): "Daddy, why is that man hitting the lady with a stick?"

Father: "That man is the conductor. He's not hitting her with a stick."

Little boy: "Then why is she hollering?"

FOUND

Two men were talking together in the public library. Said one: "The dime novel has gone. I wonder where it's gone to?"

The other, who knew something of literature in its various phases, answered cynically: "It's gone to $2.50."

Some couples think that they are stuck on each other, when after all they are only plastered.

Ever wonder why after dinner speakers are usually men? Women can't wait that long.

Exhibit To Be Placed in Fair

Randall County will have an agriculture booth at the 1955 Tri-State Fair, County Agent John Brazzil has announced.

The exhibit will be prepared by Brazzil on Sept. 16. He is asking that farmers in the county bring outstanding samples of vegetables, field crops and fruit for the exhibit.

Brazzil said he would like for prospective exhibitors notify him of their samples before Sept. 16 so he will have a chance to plan the booth. He said there are 90 varieties of products which can be exhibited, and each variety can win ribbons and cash awards.

Randall County is handicapped in each year's Tri-State Fair because there is no county fair prior to the Amarillo show from which to select the best exhibits from the county, Brazzil said.

OFF WITH THE OLD!

The skipper's son had been watching his father at the wheel. Presently the man turned to the boy, "Take over the wheel for a second, lad," he said, "I must go and have a look at my charts." He paused, and pointed to a distant star. "Steer by that and you will be all right," he added.

The boy grasped the wheel but very soon that boat was out of her course. Finally the star disappeared astern the vessel. The boy scratched his head in perplexity. "Hi, dad," he called, "come and find me another star! I've passed that one."

Wheat Blacklist Given by Brazzil

County Agent John Brazzil last week released a list of wheat strains which have been put on the United States Department of Agriculture blacklist.

The list, prepared by Producers Grain Corporation, also lists those which are considered "good" and "fair" from a milling standpoint. Those which are considered "poor" from a milling standpoint are blacklisted and will carry a 20-cent-per-bushel penalty.

Brazzil said producers will be required to give an affidavit as to the variety of wheat at the time of sale.

Those strains blacklisted for this area are Chiefkan, Red Jacket, Blue Jacket, Red Chief, Blackhulls, Kanking, Kanqueen and Stafford.

Those considered "good" are Turkey, Cheyenne, Comanche, Tenmarq, Westar, Ponca, Apache, Quanah and Concho. Concho is the newest seed, and is not available in large lots.

Brazzil said all of those strains grow well in this area.

Strains listed as "poor" are Pawnee, Wichita and Triumph.

Brazzil cautioned that farmers purchasing seed should note those on the blacklist and not use them if they want to avoid the 20-cent penalty.

Sprays Suggested For Flies in Barn

COLLEGE STATION—Research studies being made by Texas A. & M. College System entomologists are aimed at helping dairymen combat one of their warm weather enemies—the house fly.

In reporting on work done during 1954, Manning A. Price of the Department of Entomology, said the residual sprays were applied in many dairy barns in the College Station vicinity.

Malathion emulsifiable concentrate diluted to 1.25, 2.5 and 5 per cent gave protection for 17, 37 and 42 days respectively. "A 2.5 per cent spray appears to be the most economical concentration to use," said Price.

American Cyanamid Company's experimental compound 4124 at a one per cent concentration gave protection for 51 days but it stains barns and is more toxic to higher animals than malathion.

Chlorthion at a .5 per cent concentration gave protection for 38 days while a 1.0 per cent concentration increased protection to 42 days. Here again staining was a tendency but to a lesser degree than with compound 4124.

"The .5 per cent concentration appears to be the most economical to use," but he adds, "more information on its toxicity to higher animals is needed along with experiments on fly control before the insecticide can be recommended for general use."

Diazinon wettabe powder at a .5 per cent concentration gave protection for 71 days and a 1 per cent concentration for 98 days (used in one barn). Various mixtures with other sticker compounds were tried but Price says more experiments are needed to determine whether the additive to Diazinon make the emulsion any more effective.

Price said, "A .5 per cent wettable powder or a .5 per cent emulsion appears to be the most economical concentration to use."

Lindane emulsion at a .5 per cent concentration gave protection for 24 days while a mixture of .5 per cent lindane and .5 per cent Archlor gave protection for 17 days. All sprays were applied to the point of runoff with a power spray at 150 pounds pressure per square inch.
